A BIG CAMPAIGN FOR TEMPERANCE

Overshadows the Choice of Candidates in the Primary.

MARTIN MEN CLAIM COUNTY

Willard Strong, and Mann is Gaining Votes-Solid for Ellyson.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ORANGE, VA., July 28.-Politics in this county have taken a strange turn within the last month. This is the opinion of a score or more of prominent men with whom I talked, and the fact that these men represented all the different factions Railroad main line, where the Tidewater and yet agreed as to the final outcome, is significant.

The injection of the temperance question is what is causing the unusual activity, and the vote on local option that is to be taken on September 1st, one week after the primary, is more discussed than the great party struggle that will cease on August 22. Temperance lectures of note and prominence have been engaged at high salaries, and a vigorous campaign will be carried on all during next month.

I talked to a number of men who are I talked to a number of men who are active in the movement for temperance, and I found that these men represented not a single candidate, but all the candidates. Martin and Montague men are working side by side for temperance, and the followers of Willard and Swanson and Mann are united in this respect. I asked a well known politician, a prominent Martin man, who is in touch with the situation, what effect this crusade would have on the primary. He said that in his opinion it would strengthen Judge Mann, who up to this time had developed no strength in the district. He further stated, however, that Willard would carry the county, with Mann and Swanson fol-stated, however, that Willard would carry the county, with Mann and Swanson following in the order named.

When asked regarding the senatorial fight, he said that there would probably be polled one thousand votes in the county, and that of these votes Martin would probably receive 60 and Montague 40.

The county would go solid for J. Taylor
Ellyson and for Attorney-General Anderson, he said.

In discussing the question with a gen an admirer of Governor Montague, I learned that the county was very evenly divided between Martin and Montague. and that it was practically a "stand off In the fight for executive honors Wi lard would carry the county by a safe vote, he said.

I was shown several letters that had been sent out by Senator Martin's friends urging residents of the county to vote for him rather than for Governor Montague, and charging that Governor Montague, and charging that Governor Montague was the candidate of the railroads and the corporations.

Senator Shackleford, who is unopposed in his fight for re-election, and is extendly popular in the community, is working hard in the interests of Senator Martin. In an interview Senator Shackleford said, "I believe that Senator Martin will carry the county by between 150 and 20 majority. In the fight for the Governorship I am for Swanson, who is and has been for years my personal friend. Judge Mann is developing some strength here, but Willard is ahead, and the young men seem to be for him. It is acknowledged by all factions that Ellyson for lieutenant-governor and Anderson for attorney-general, will practically receive a unanimous vote in this county.

At the horse show during the early part of the week Congressman Swanson and Mr. J.Alston Cabell only were present out of the long list of candidates. Captain Willard was represented by Colonel Robert E. Lee, and Mr. Thomas B. Love, of Fairfax, Mr. Thomas Atkinson and Mr. W. W. Sanford, of Grange county and Colonel Lewis, of Albemaric, From present appearances it looks as though the county would go for Martin, Willard, Ellyson and Anderson.

Two men were hurt at the Norfolk and Southern Rallroad station this afternoon, and sent to the Sarah Leigh Hospital. J. P. Deans, conductor, and Jim Ballard, colored, a train hand, were assisting in backing a coal train up on the trestle, when the last car smashed against the bulkhead, broke loose, and fell into the street. Ballard, who was on the car as it went over, jumped to save himself, and received some severe cuts. Conductor Deans was cut on the head and body by falling coal. The car was demolished.

Seventh Day Adventist Appeals From Decision of Court.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 28 .- In he Superior Court this afternoon Judge Bryan heard argument in a rather novel case. The defendant was Thomas Hege, a Seventh Day Adventist, who had appealed from the Mayor's Court in a fine imposed upon Hege for persistently keeping his store open and selling goods on Sunday. The defendants employed counsel, and after the latter's argument Hege spoke for twenty minutes, in which he gave a brief history of his own life and read many selections from the Bloie. He contended that the State and city laws in regard to Sabbath observance are unconstitutional. Judge Bryam sustained the judgment of the Mayowand the counsel for the Seventh Day Adventist gave sel for the Seventh Day Adventist gave notice of appeal to the State Supreme

MAJ. HETH TYLER ATTACKS GREEN

Does Little Damage, But Dislocates His Shoulder.

HAVE MORE FIGHTS

Former , Representative John Whitehead Denies Green's Aspersions.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., July 28 .- N. T. Green recently from Danville, and a candidate for the State Senate, was again assaulted to-day. During a speech announcing his candidacy three days ago. he accused the members of the law fire of Sale, Mann & Tyler, of lobbying for the Jamestown Exposition bill in a dishonorable way and charged that there was a graft in the passage of the bill. Colonel James Mann went to Mr. Green's office and slapped him in the face, de claring that Mr. Green's words were personally insulfing. Major 8. Heth Ty-ler, a member of the firm and the son of Former Governor J. Hoge Tyler, has been in the hospital and met Mr. Green on the street this morning for the first time since the speech was made. Major Tyler followed Mr. Green on the street and struck him full in the face as soon as they met. as they met.

Mr. Green declares that he cannot be prevented from speaking by fighting, and there are apprehensions that he will have more fighting if he does not modify what he has said.

GREEN REFLECTS ON ALL.

Mr. John Whitchead, a member of the legislature which passed the Jamestown Exposition hill, expresses strong dissent from Mr. Nathaniel T. Green's view of Senator W. W. Saic's relation to the measure. In view of the sensational developments and fights following Mr. Green's first dash into the areas. Mr. Whitchead's contribution to the discussion from the other side is interesting. As he has been connected with the exposition company since its organization his views are also interesting on this account. He exprésses them as follows:

"I can say that to the best of my knowledge not one cent was ever spent for the purpose of influencing votes. The bill was engineered through the House town Exposition Company for any purpose whatsoever."
